

Southeastern Development Company, LLC

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

We are proud to announce that Southeastern Development Company, LLC (SDC) is now a dealer for Enercept structural insulated panels (SIPs). This is in addition to our successful line of modular homes from Epoch Homes and Ritz-Craft Corp, and is in response to our many customer's demands for ultra-energy efficient homes.

Our new line of structural insulated panels is the most fully customized line of SIPs on the market. Building projects that incorporate Enercept's SIPs typically result in savings of 40-60% on heating and cooling costs compared with "stick built" homes. They can be designed for both residential and commercial applications.

SDC is now also providing customers with Connor Homes, "Building the old new home since 1969". Connor Homes are traditional New England style reproduction homes.
